The Lehigh Valley Coalition on Sport Ethics seeks to promote positive expectations, good behaviors, and ethical standards among all those involved in youth sports.

Continuing its process of re-organization, the advisory board was expanded to 13 persons, with 10 more to be elected in the coming year. Five meetings of the advisory board were held during the year.

Dr. Luther Rhodes - chief of infectious diseases, Lehigh Valley Hospital
Justin Cooper, ’06 – physician assistant, Lehigh Valley Physicians Group
Jason Zimmerman - director of athletics, Northwestern Lehigh High School
Mike Moyer - executive director, National Wrestling Coaches Association

Engaged in research and writing about sport-related issues, LVCOSE board members authored three essays that were published in The Morning Call newspaper, participated in one international conference on the philosophy of sport, and presented research at a conference on sport medicine.
